

Good day

Following our telecommunication yesterday, herewith feedback from the Executive Office.

Profmed's understanding is that the scope of practice of Clinical Psychologists and Neuropsychologists is different to that of other psychology disciplines. Therefore Profmed will fund only Clinical and Neuropsychologists.

Counseling Psychologists will only be funded if they are not treating patients with a Prescribed Minim Benefit (PMB) diagnosis or a psychiatric condition registered with the Scheme.

These conditions are clinical in nature and should only be treated by Clinical or Neuropsychologists. Counseling Psychologists will be funded if they are treating any other conditions but only up to a maximum of 4 consultations. Thereafter, the patient must be referred to a Clinical or Neuropsychologists.

Industrial, Educational and all other sub-disciplines of Psychologists will not be funded as they are a Scheme exclusion.
